FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Hauppauge, NY – November 18, 2010 – Irwin Contracting Inc. wins NARI NYC/LI “Platinum Contractor of the Year Award” in “Entire House $500,000-$1,000,000” Category

Irwin Contracting Inc.'s extensive renovation project on an East Islip home was rewarded by the NARI (National Association of the Remodeling Industry) local NYC-LI Chapter at their “Evening of Excellence” dinner. “The remodelers and subcontractors here tonight are those held as masters of their trade,” said Chapter President Dawn Cameron. “Awards are given only for outstanding work.”

John C. Irwin, President of Irwin Contracting, and Krystal Guercio, Project Manager, accepted the award on behalf of the company. Their award winning home remodel project entailed a complete interior and exterior renovation intended to improve the physical appearance of an existing ranch home, as well as increase its size. This was achieved without changing the footprint of the existing home, which was a challenge, since an entire second floor addition was built.

The completed home features functional enhancements such as: two staircases, washer and dryer on both floors, central vacuum, master bedroom suite with four walk-in closets, gym, and private outdoor terrace accessible from three rooms, overlooking the Great South Bay. Aesthetic elements include multiple decorative curved walls, granite kitchen countertops and dark cherry wood cabinets, full onyx mosaic-tiled bathroom with double-sinks, and a double-sided natural gas fireplace with mounted televisions on both sides. The exterior was improved with new siding, turrets, heated pool, re-faced bulkhead, landscaping, and a three car garage.
